WETS CLAIM DRY LAW IS UNENFORCEABLE

CLAIM PRIMA FACIE CASE OF ITS FAILURE

SENATOR EDGE CHALLENGES DRYS TO ANSWER REVELATIONS MADE REGARDING BOOTLEGGING, CORRUPTION, DISEASE AND CRIME

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, April 10.—The prosecution against prohibition in the senate committee investigation today claimed to have established a prima facie case that the law was unenforceable and a failure.

With only nine hours of their day in court remaining, Senator Walter E. Edge, republican, New Jersey, wet bloc leader, made a declaration that the wets had made a case and challenged the drys to answer revelations of bootlegging, corruption, disease and crime.

"We have used government officials and produced facts and records, not simply opinions," he told the United Press. "We have records and men to prove that conditions are relatively the same in every corner of the United States."

"If the opposition gets anywhere it must refute these facts and not as in the past defend the law by exhortation and evasion."

The wets put into the record this morning the recent magazine story of Pussfoot Johnson, dry leader, entitled, "How I Had to Lie, Drink, Bribe to Put Over Prohibition."

"When we read this we can expect almost anything," Edge said. "The wets will use two of their closing hours to sum up their case, introducing statements from witnesses in the west, the far west and the south concerning liquor conditions in their areas. These witnesses will be prevented from appearing because of time restrictions."

The wets do not wish to utilize their nine remaining hours today, they want to continue their case until Monday.

The drys, however, contend that their witnesses are already on the way here to take the stand the first of the week.

The committee will decide.

The wets called William J. Stewart, member of the first Quebec, Ontario, liquor commission, to the stand today to explain the Quebec system in connection with the Bruce resolution for local option, prohibition and distribution of liquor under government supervision.

PRES. HALL OF STATE FEDERATION OF LABOR

Minneapolis, April 10.—Conditions resulting from the attempt to enforce the Volstead law in Minnesota have become intolerable, E. G. Hall, president of the Minnesota Federation of Labor, said today, in a statement corroborating testimony given by the labor representatives at the beer hearings in Washington yesterday.

"The working man feels that the time has come for a show down at the polls on this question of modifying the prohibition law to permit the sale and manufacture of beer and light wine," Hall said. "If the prohibition issue is left to the public for a decision, there is no question but that America would no longer be bone dry."

Hall said the testimony given before the senate wet and dry committee represented fairly existing conditions in this state and the sentiment of working men here.

PROHIBITION TRIED IN CANADA AND FAILED

Washington, April 10.—Prohibition was tried in Canada and failed because it did not prohibit, but instead provoked crime and demoralization of young people, Sir William Stavert, formerly of the Quebec liquor commission, and F. W. Russell, of the Manitoba Temperance society, told the senate prohibition committee today.

Restricted government sale of liquors had eliminated the evils of prohibition, they said.

Their testimony, coming after John Sullivan of the New York Federation of Labor had pictured "young girls carrying flasks of gin on their hips in New York," had a visible effect upon both wet and dry members of the investigating committee.

Sir William and Russell were closely questioned regarding the Quebec and Manitoba systems of government distribution which they

JAIL BREAK OF 10 AT WORKHOUSE, MILL CITY, CHECKED

Minneapolis, April 10.—(UP)—A jail break at the workhouse here was averted yesterday when two guards rounded up all but three of 10 men who made a dash for freedom and the others were taken by a squad sent in pursuit. Fifty prisoners were at work in a field near the jail when a group of ten suddenly ran for the highway adjoining. One guard remained to watch the large group while the other went in pursuit. Seven were captured immediately and the other three were taken by a squad of guards sent out from the prison. All were safely back in jail within an hour after the attempted escape.

17 CONVICTS AT NASHVILLE ESCAPE PRISON

STOP AT BELL BUCKLE AND ROB BANK OF $15,000, REPORTED

THE FUGITIVES ELUDE HEAVILY ARMED POSSES IN PURSUIT

Nashville, Tenn., April 10.—(UP)—Led by a murderer and a notorious Oklahoma bandit, 17 convicts of the state prison here, who escaped last night, stopped at Bell Buckle, Tenn., near here and robbed a bank of $15,000, the authorities were informed today.

The fugitives apparently have temporarily eluded the heavily armed posses, which picked up their trail after the alarm announcing the wholesale delivery had been sounded and are believed to have fled to the east Tennessee mountains.

Simultaneously prison officials began an investigation of the escape that was directed by Lee Allen, Oklahoma bank bandit, and Howard Barr, serving a long term for filling station robberies.

Procuring a pistol, Allen held up W. H. Dodson, guard, and aided by Barr, forced him into an empty cell after removing his gun and keys. Several trustees were drafted to free other prisoners.

Walking along the lines of prison cells, Barr and Allen demanded promises of cash money before they would open cell doors. Fifteen were added to their original party.

Two airplanes attached to a national guard squadron here have been ordered by Governor Austin Peay to fly over the east Tennessee mountains near Bell Buckle in search of the convicts.

When informed that the fugitives had stopped at Bell Buckle and robbed a bank of $15,000 on their way to the mountain country, Governor Peay also ordered a force of armed men to invade the hills and the planes into the air.

Nashville, Tenn., April 10.—A pistol of wood carved by the skilled hand of a convict, brought about the boldest escape in the history of state penal institutions when 17 convicts fled from the Tennessee prison here last night, Warden McCorkle admitted today. McCorkle reluctantly admitted the boldness of the coup after it had gone out through grapevine channels that a toy pistol in the hand of Lee Allen, Oklahoma bandit, was the only weapon used in the break.

While state motor policemen, county posses and prison guards searched the countryside for traces of the fugitives, police here arrested Joe Wilcox, 23, serving three years for grand larceny, who had become separated from the band. Wilcox was attempting to buy clothes to replace his prison uniform when taken.

He refused to discuss the plans of confederates and was taken back to the prison.

Nashville, Tenn., April 10.—After a desperate battle with police during which they used a park policeman as a shield, Lee Allen, Oklahoma bank bandit, and Charley White, burglar, who engineered the delivery of 17 convicts at the Tennessee state prison here last night, surrendered to police today.

Duluth—Veterans of the 135th Field Artillery held a reunion here today. A permanent organization of present and former members of the organization is under way.

U. S. SENATE COMMITTEE HEARS "WET" LEGISLATORS WHO PRESENT THEIR CASE AGAINST THE VOLSTEAD ACT

This photograph was taken when the sub-committee of five of the Senate Judiciary Committee opened its hearings in Washington. The members of the sub-committee (seated) are Senators J. W. Harrell of Oklahoma, James A. Reed of Missouri, R. W. Means of Colorado, chairman; Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, and Guy D. Goff of West Virginia. Standing are Representative John Philip Hill of Maryland, Senator Walter E. Edge of New Jersey, Senator William C. Bruce of Maryland and Senator Edward I. Edwards of New Jersey, leaders in the battle being waged by the "wets." Lower photo shows, left to right, Lincoln A. Andrews, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury in charge of Prohibition enforcement; Emory R. Buckner, United States District Attorney in New York, and Representative John Philip Hill of Maryland. The testimony of Andrews and Buckner was expected to be valuable in showing that Prohibition enforcement has been a failure, while Hill is an avowed "wet."

OPPOSE USE OF THE BIBLE IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Fort Wayne, Ind., April 10.—(UP)—Clergymen and educators of the Lutheran church were pledged today in opposition to the use of the bible in public schools.

A conference of the Lutheran church adopted resolutions in sympathy with the address of Professor H. D. Mensing of Concordia College, in which he asserted that "introduction of the bible into the public schools is a danger to America."

The moment America introduces the reading of the bible into the public schools she is bound for the intolerance and persecution of the middle ages, Professor Mensing declared.

I. C. C. ACTS AGAINST RATE DISCRIMINATION

ORDERS 3 CARRIERS TO ESTABLISH NEW THROUGH ROUTES, JOINT RATES

FROM PACIFIC COAST POINTS TO POINTS IN IDAHO, NORTH DAKOTA AND MINNESOTA

Washington, April 9.—(UP)—The Northern Pacific, the Union Pacific and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroads were today ordered by the Interstate Commerce Commission to establish new through routes at joint rates from Pacific coast points to points in Idaho, North Dakota and Minnesota.

The commission found that the carriers discriminated against the steamship line and ordered the same basis of rates that were accorded the Pacific and the McCormack Steamship lines from the various ports along the Pacific coast to the interior.

The Great Northern agreed to establish the rate requested prior to the order.

MINNEAPOLIS DOCTOR SENTENCED TO PRISON ON NARCOTIC CHARGE

Minneapolis, April 10.—(UP)—Dr. David Gordon, a Minneapolis physician, was sentenced to five years in federal penitentiary today for selling narcotics. Judge John S. Sanborn, following a verdict of guilty by a jury late yesterday, ordered Gordon to serve concurrently three five year terms at Leavenworth.

Fifty-four indictments were also returned in federal court and four sentenced for liquor law violations.

OLD LAW MAY GIVE QUIETUS TO MOONSHINING

PROVIDES FOR FORFEITURE TO GOVERNMENT OF REAL AND PERSONAL PROPERTY

INVOLVED IN THE MANUFACTURE OF ILLICIT LIQUOR

Chicago, April 10.—(UP)—Resurrecting from the statutes of 1857 an old law to check moonshining, Director E. C. Yellowley today started out on a campaign that he hopes will take from every moonshiner and bootlegger in Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin every bit of real or personal property he owns.

The old law, used extremely successfully in the reconstruction period immediately following the civil war, provides for the forfeiture to the government of both real and personal property involved in booze manufacturing and even provides for the surrender of land over which bootleggers pass to and from a wildcat still, according to Yellowley.

Now, Director Yellowley said, he will be able to take over property in place of merely padlocking it.

The law also provides fines of from $1,000 to $5,000 and prison sentences of from six months to two years.

The prohibition agents in Yellowley's office are undergoing a course of instruction in the matter of preparing evidence under the old law and the drive will begin soon, Yellowley said.

SUICIDE EPIDEMIC CLAIMS SIX LIVES IN WINDY CITY

Chicago, April 10.—(UP)—A suicide "epidemic" claimed six lives in Chicago within 12 hours, three women and three men successfully ending their lives while two other women failed in death attempts.

Frank Post, a Christian Science practitioner, was the last of the six to die. He laid down on a railroad track and was decapitated. The others were Mrs. Elizabeth Ellis, Mrs. Genevieve Musker, Miss Anna Nitzki, Jacob Bolin and August Getchell.

Domestic difficulties and despondency over ill health were believed responsible for all the suicides.

NORGE TAKES OFF ON NEW POLAR FLIGHT

EXPECTS TO FLY ACROSS NORTH POLE BY WAY OF KING'S BAY TO ALASKA

COMMANDER NOBILE, ITALIAN, COMMANDS AMUNDSEN-ELLSWORTH DIRIGIBLE

Rome, April 10.—(UP)—Roald Amundsen and Lincoln Ellsworth's dirigible Norge today began the long flight which is expected to eventually take them across the North Pole by way of King's Bay, Spitzbergen, to Alaska.

Commander Umberto Nobile, the Italian, who designed the Norge was in command as she soared away from the local airfield at 9:30 A. M. for Toulon, France. Weather conditions at Couter Piereffu airfield near here and along the route were excellent.

In addition to her mixed Italian-Norwegian crew, the Norge carried a French aviation officer to assist in piloting the craft to Toulon, and Major Scott, the Englishman, who piloted the R-23 across the Atlantic. Scott will aid Nobile on the next leg from Toulon to Pulham, the air ministry field in England.

Amundsen and Ellsworth, the latter an American, who jointly command the polar expedition, will join their craft in King's Bay. They left Rome more than a fortnight ago to travel northward. Their venture this year is similar to that which carried them almost to the pole last May, except that they will trust to lighter than air craft instead of airplanes as was the case a year ago.

On May 21st last year Amundsen, Ellsworth and four Norwegian companions took off from King's Bay after many days waiting for fair weather in an effort to fly to the pole. It was their intention to spend six hours at the pole, make observations and return to King's Bay. The allotted time passed and nothing was heard of the explorers. Thereafter a watch was kept posted on the barren island of Spitzbergen. The watchers gazed always toward the northern horizon for the two black specks which had sunk beyond the line on May 21. Days passed and no word came from the flyers. Occasionally a couple of birds wheeling aimlessly in the air were mistaken for the approaching planes, but these moments of hope were brief.

Then on June 15, the six explorers and one plane returned to the northernmost point of land near their starting point, North Cape, on the island of Northeastland. Here a steamer picked them up and landed them at their starting place, King's Bay, June 18, after almost a month in the Arctic within a few miles of the pole. One plane was abandoned there in the Arctic ice.

Toulon, April 10.—At 11 A. M. the Amundsen-Ellsworth polar flight dirigible Norge was proceeding normally en route from Rome to Toulon, although somewhat hampered by strong head winds, according to a wireless message from Commander Nobile.

Two PLANES CRASH, 5 BURNED TO DEATH IN ENGLAND

London, April 10.—(UP)—Two officers and three mechanics were burned to death here today when two airplanes collided above the military air command at Henlow, England.

NATIONALIST TROOPS IN A COUP AT PEKING

THE ARTILLERY FIRING CAN BE HEARD TO EAST OF THE CITY

EXTENT AND NATURE OF THE ENGAGEMENT NOT KNOWN

By RANDALL GOULD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Peking, April 10.—The central government was overthrown and President Tuan Chi Jui made prisoner today by nationalist troops.

There is great uncertainty as to the direction events will take.

Artillery firing can be heard to the east but the extent and nature of the engagement are not known here.

It is understood that Tuan has signed a letter of abdication prepared for him by his captors and that Marshal Wu Pei Fu and the nationalists have reached an agreement whereby Wu will come to Peking immediately and join with the nationalists in opposing the Manchurian troops of Marshal Chang Tso Lin. Wu was an ally of Chang when the current trouble began a few weeks ago.

PRES. TUAN OF CHINA PRISONER

Peking, April 10.—President Tuan Chi Jui of China was seized and made prisoner today by the nationalist troops which control the Peking area, nationalist leaders announced. The presidential bodyguard was disarmed.

The nationalists telegraphically requested Wu Pei Fu to assume charge of the government. The capital is normal today except that the troops and machine guns are distributed through the streets. Other than nationalist sources deny that Tuan has been captured or that the bodyguard has been disarmed. The palace gates have been opened and the palace reconnected.

The nationalists claim to have effected an exchange of presidential prisoners. Former President Tsao Kun, who was seized and imprisoned by the Kuomintang, or nationalist troops, more than a year ago, when Marshall Feng Yu Hsiang gained control of Peking, has been released from his confinement, although he is remaining in his palatial prison in order to have the protection of an armed guard.

General Lu Chung Lin, the commander of the nationalist garrison, today distributed placards throughout the city denouncing Tuan as a betrayer of his country, and blaming him for the recent massacre of rioting students by the presidential guard. Lu's circular asserted that Tuan had been imprisoned and Tsao released.

DARROW PLEADS FOR RELEASE OF WISCONSIN FARMER

Madison, Wis., April 10.—(UP)—Clarence Darrow, defender of liberalism and famous for his part in the now historic Loeb and Leopold case of Chicago and the Scopes evolution case of Tennessee, appeared before the Wisconsin supreme court today to plead for the release from the state prison at Waupun of Adolph Eckman, Darien, Wis., farmer, who is serving a life sentence for the killing of Carl Fritz, Johnstown farmer.

The court room was crowded with curious spectators.

FRANK CLAGUE FILES FOR CONGRESS

St. Paul, April 10.—(UP)—Representative Frank Clague, Redwood Falls, Minn., today filed for renomination as the republican candidate for congressman from the second Minnesota district.

Another congressional candidate who filed with the secretary of state today was George W. Pate, Winona, who will run for the republican nomination in the first district. Representative August Anderson is the present congressman from that district.

MUSIC FESTIVAL BY CHURCH CHOIR

St. Paul's Episcopal Vested Choir of 40 Voices to Sing at Royalton

AT VESPER SERVICE

Invitations Also Received From Half Dozen Other Nearby Towns to Sing

The vested choir of 40 voices, of St. Paul's Episcopal church of Brainerd will drive to Royalton tomorrow immediately after dinner and render a musical festival service at a vesper service to be held in Grace Episcopal church of Royalton at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

The choir and servers of the local church have been invited to visit a half dozen near by towns and give a special musical program. The visit tomorrow afternoon to Royalton, for the purpose will be the first visit for this spring and it is planned to make the other trips later. Up to the present time invitations have been accepted to visit St. Albans' Episcopal church of Staples on Sunday afternoon, May 2nd and St. John's Episcopal church of Aitkin on the afternoon of May 9th.

Immediately following the service a supper will be served by the members of the church in Royalton tomorrow afternoon and it is expected that the choir will be back in Brainerd by 8 o'clock at night—this early return is planned because of the large number of boys that are accompanying the choir.

The following is the program that will be sung at the service tomorrow afternoon:

Devices to Aid Deaf

Some day ear specialists may fit patients with instruments suited to their particular form of deafness, just as eye specialists now fit glasses to patients with eye troubles. A first step toward this distant goal has been taken in the attempt to standardize the many hearing devices now on the market. A survey of these devices is being made by a committee of the American Federation of Organizations for the Hard of Hearing with the co-operation of the United States bureau of standards, which will test instruments submitted to it and will render a confidential report to the members of the committee. Dr. Wendell C. Phillips, president-elect of the American Medical association, and chairman of the federation committee on research, has said that there are more than seventy-five varieties of hearing aids on the market, and that they vary greatly.

Steel Gray Straw Mode Is Designed for Spring

Steel-gray straw promises to be very popular for early spring. This model is very tailored in its trim of henna and green-colored velvet.

Mad as a March Hare

March is supposed to be the month when hares run the field spasmodically in all directions, hence the frequency of this phrase. As "mad as a hatter" is another common expression. It is supposed to be a corruption of "mad as an utter" when "utter" means "viper"—so "mad as a hatter" really means "venomous as a viper."—Indianapolis Star.

WELCOMING OUR NEW CITIZENS

NATURALIZATION exercises will be held Tuesday evening, April 13th, at 8 o'clock, in the high school auditorium at the Washington school building. A splendid program is being arranged, the presentation of diplomas to those who have been successful in passing the examinations of citizenship being the outstanding feature. These examinations will be held the preceding evening in the class rooms at the high school, by W. C. Cobb, superintendent, and W. A. M. Johnstone, clerk of the district court.

Night classes in American citizenship and the common branches of education are being conducted twice each week, by Miss Clara Hjerpe, and Miss Millena Vanasek, under the supervision of W. C. Cobb, superintendent of city schools, authorized by the board of education, and with the assistance of state aid.

The main object of these classes is to prepare applicants desiring to be admitted to citizenship, so that they may know and understand just what is required of them before being admitted to the privileges, and after assuming the responsibilities of American citizenship.

These people who are about to become naturalized citizens are making a deliberate choice. Continuous residence in this country for a period of five years is required before they may become citizens, which assures a calm consideration of the advantages to be derived, and some of the responsibilities to be incurred when the important step is taken.

These people have declared their intentions to become citizens; have shown their good faith by studying the language, also American history, civics, and geography. Besides this, they have been earning their living in a more or less strange land, and adjusting themselves to customs not familiar to them. Now they are to be one with us; no longer aliens, but rightful members of the community. Unconsciously, perhaps, they will take up who are older in citizenship as models of that citizenship to which they have aspired.

It has been said that "The worth of a state in the long run is the worth of the individuals composing it." This being true, it is our duty as citizens to show our own worth, and in doing so, indicate what is expected from others who join us in that state of brotherhood.

Let us not be found wanting in hospitality. All of us who can possibly go should attend these exercises, filling that auditorium, and encouraging with our presence these good people, who by their earnest application to the study of citizenship, have prepared themselves to become full and equal citizens with us.

It should be not only a duty, but an act of courtesy to meet and mingle with these people who have given their leisure, night after night, to gain some knowledge of the language and customs of a foreign country. Now they reap their reward, when on Tuesday evening they will receive diplomas showing their proficiency in the work given, which practically assures their acceptance as citizens of the United States.

So let us be there to congratulate them on their achievements in citizenship, welcome them into our midst with genuine friendliness, and extend the hand of fellowship to them in this, their chosen land.

SAVE THE FOREST WEEK

AMERICAN Forest Week is really an international affair. It is being sponsored by the President of the United States and by the Governor General of Canada.

"We must stamp out the forest fires which still annually sweep many wooded areas, destroying timber the nation can ill afford to lose and killing young growth needed to constitute the forests of the future. Forest fires, caused largely by human indifference or carelessness, are the greatest single obstacle to reforestation and effective forest management," says President Coolidge.

"We must encourage and extend methods of timber cutting which perpetuate the forest while harvesting its products. We must plant trees in abundance on our idle land where they can profitably be grown. We must examine taxation practices that may form economic barriers to timber culture."

The Canadian proclamation emphasizes five points:

1. That settlers and others engaged in the clearing of land should fully observe the fire laws of the Dominion and of the Province, which laws have been enacted for their protection, as well as for the preservation of our timber resources;

2. That at this time of the year, when thousands are looking forward to spending their summer vacations in the woods, all should take cognizance of the fact that the camp-fire may, if neglected, easily result in disaster; and that to prevent repetition of such losses as have been annually sustained from this cause, all persons familiarize themselves with the proper methods of building, using and extinguishing such fires;

3. That all travelers in forest regions should realize that cigarette or cigar butts, live pipe ashes and unextinguished matches are a very fruitful source of forest fires, and that nothing short of unremitting care by all concerned will decrease appreciably the losses through such causes;

4. That it is the duty of every citizen, on discovering a fire in the forest, personally to take what steps are possible to extinguish it, and if it be too large to be attended to unaided, to send advice at once to the nearest forest officer; prompt action along this line would, in the past, have prevented many a disastrous conflagration;

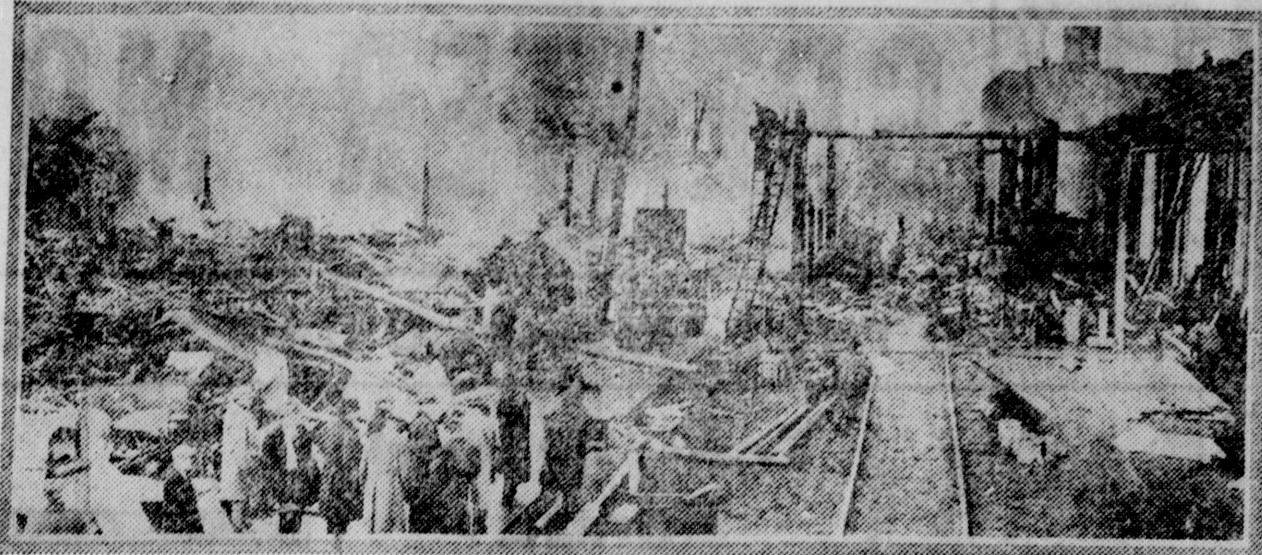

5. That loggers, saw-mill operators and others interested in timber operations should see that all equipment and appliances designed to prevent the origin or spread of fires are overhauled and placed in a state of thorough repair; that such persons should review with care the fire protection requirements of the legislation under which they operate; and that they should see that all employees working under their direction are properly instructed as to the danger of fire.

WITH a ship canal into the Great Lakes via the St. Lawrence River, American vessels will have opportunities which they do not now possess at ocean ports due to long-established routing practices which give our foreign competitors an advantage.

ATTENDANCE at farmers' institutes throughout the state is showing a gratifying increase.

HOME, DAD AND THE BOY

By FRANK H. CHELEY

Real Dads Are Real Sports

BECAUSE these fathers play the old "Game of Life" for all that is in them, but always according to the rules that every boy understands as "being square."

Because They Believe in Team Games as educators in sportsmanship and social living and insist that the bleachers are rarely, if ever, the place for real boys. "Every Boy in the Game," is their slogan.

Because They Are Friendly with their neighbors, rich and poor alike. Invariably boys and dogs in the neighborhood know them and like to "hang around" them. The gang often want them for "umps" or to be "it," because they have confidence in them and enjoy them.

Because Their instructions are always of the positive sort—and backed up by personal demonstration, too. They despise "don't," and "nagging" is strictly against their principles.

Because They Are Invariably interested in dogs and chickens and stamps and stars and radio. They believe that a boy without a hobby is likely to be no boy at all, and that the making of collections is one of the joys of being a boy.

said eliminated bootleggers, raised revenues for road building and resulted in temperance.

No bootlegger can exist, Sir William said, because he cannot sell liquor cheaper than the government.

Quebec tried prohibition for four or five years and it failed, Sir William said, though he admitted the system of selling light wine and beer had not entirely eliminated hard liquor demand.

"We feel that the sale of beer, however, has lessened the demand for hard liquor," he added. "There is very little intoxication among consumers of light wine and beer."

Sir William admitted that the people of his province would not be satisfied only with light wines and beer.

Wets and dries agreed that the wets should discontinue presentation of their case temporarily Monday and that the committee would give over that day to hear dry witnesses who were on their way here. "The wets will resume again Tuesday to consume about eight hours of their remaining time."

Russell declared his Canadian province had made the same experiment with prohibition that the United States has made.

"We found half of our people in revolt," he said. "It caused a network of stills where we never had had stills before."

"After two years of prohibition there were 40 convictions for operation of illicit stills and in the last year of prohibition there were 400. We found it started a crime wave such as we had never had before or since. Bandits swooped down on our cities, robbed our banks and killed our people."

Last year, after we had abolished prohibition and started distributing liquor, through government distribution the crime wave discontinued. "The people came to their senses. Seizure of stills did not amount to one a month. The financial, business and working classes are satisfied. The province made $3,000,000 profit for relief of taxation."

In January there were fewer cases on the dockets of the courts than at any time in history, Russell said.

Mathew W. Woll, vice president of the American Federation of Labor, told the committee that the federation of workers looked upon prohibition as class legislation, not intended for the rich but for the poor. He said he had sons in the Massachusetts School of Technology and the University of Illinois and that bootleggers solicit student trade weekly.

Woll concluded and the committee adjourned until 10 A. M. Monday.

DR. ROY SMITH'S SATURDAY NIGHT TALKS

By the REV. ROY L. SMITH, D. D.
Pastor Simpson M. E. Church, Minneapolis

UNIVERSES UNDER OUR FEET

Listening to the astronomer as he talks about billions of light miles and millions of light-years, one is apt to get the impression that man is such an infinitesimal speck in the great cosmic whole that he is hopelessly lost.

"When I survey the heavens the work of thy hands, what is man that thou art mindful of him?" is the query of the Old Testament psalmist, a question with which the modern student abundantly sympathizes.

The telescope has a way of making man feel pitifully small, but the microscope is an excellent antidote for there are just as many marvelous universes under our feet as over our head.

Science, just a few years ago, was talking in terms of molecules, these being the smallest known particle of any substance. Then the scientist discovered that molecules were composed of atoms, and now atoms are said to be made up of millions of electrons revolving about a central body, all inside the atom.

With a telescope and a microscope man stands midway in the universe with a marvelous solar system over his head and an equally marvelous universe under his feet.

Peering into the heart of a field daisy or the torso of a mosquito through the eye of a microscope man is astounded at the accuracy and delicacy of the Almighty as a Master Craftsman. The smaller the creation, the more intricate and beautiful the creation.

That divine and immanent intelligence which is revealed in the workmanship of these invisible worlds cannot ignore a creature like man in all his dignity of conscious existence.

The inexorable precision which drives electrons about the nucleus of an atom at the rate of billions of times per second cannot overlook the sublime spectacle of a mother praying for her wayward son.

Let him who is humiliated and depressed by a contemplation of the worlds over his head take heart and look for a time at the universes under his feet.

Short Skirt May Remain Favorite

Reformers Seem to Gain but Little Ground for Change of Style.

The long skirters are bad psychologists, asserts a fashion writer in the New York Herald-Tribune. Just when the knee-length skirt was getting ready to leave the spotlight—just when the couture had declared that the next move of the skirt hem would be in the direction of the ankles, just when even the scantiest skirts were attracting little more than casual notice, along come some bold, well-meaning crusaders, broadcasting the pronouncements that the abbreviated skirt must go, else the whole world descend into the maelstrom of moral decadence. And straightaway debutante and matron, dowager and flapper, who had been casting around for something new by which to march at the head of the mode, sigh relievedly and pin their faith again in the short skirt. And only because well-intending reformers have once more directed the light of publicity toward an issue which was ready to retire like Cincinnatus.

To some of the younger generation this organized crusade, which has been inaugurated both here and abroad, comes in the nature of a challenge. However fatuously milady may bow to the edicts of the haute couture, she has a tremendous resistance toward dictation from any other source. And she will take a particular delight in manifesting her sartorial independence of all critics outside the pale of the mode.

Another unfortunate mistake of the ankle-length hemline advocates was the attempt to make a moral issue out of what is clearly only a phase of fashion. Some of the early missionaries to barbaric countries were horrified at the lack of covering worn by the natives. The Turk of a few years ago considered it the height of immorality for a lady to be unveiled. And the Victorian censors of modern dress are in the same boat. After a little they will realize, as these others have realized, that dress is not a matter of morals but of custom and education. And when they do, the question of skirt length will no longer be of moment and no one will care if it terminates at the knees or the ankles. No one, that is, except the couture and its critics, in whose province such matters should normally rest.

Small, but Important

Keeping track of the one-celled plants and animals, too small to be seen except with a microscope, yet vastly important as the ultimate food of fishes and all other sea life, is the task of W. E. Allen of the Scripps Institution of Oceanography, La Jolla, Cal. Though these minute plants, belonging mainly to the diatom family, are too small to be eaten directly by fishes, they form the food of tiny shrimp-like creatures that in their turn form the food of fishes. An understanding of the effects on the diatoms of light, temperature, chemical and other conditions is therefore important in building up an eventual complete understanding of fisheries and other sea industries, Mr. Allen explains.

The Three Wild Men

In illustration of the amusing misunderstandings of things happening in our good city during the Christmas times may be mentioned the impressions of a little five-year-old boy who took part in a tableau at one of the churches depicting beautiful events commemorating the nativity.

On being asked by his mother the next morning who it was followed the star until it stood above the manger in Bethlehem, he replied: "The three wild men." Being further asked what kind of gifts they brought, he replied: "Gold, frankincense and mercury."—Indianapolis News.

The Square Peg

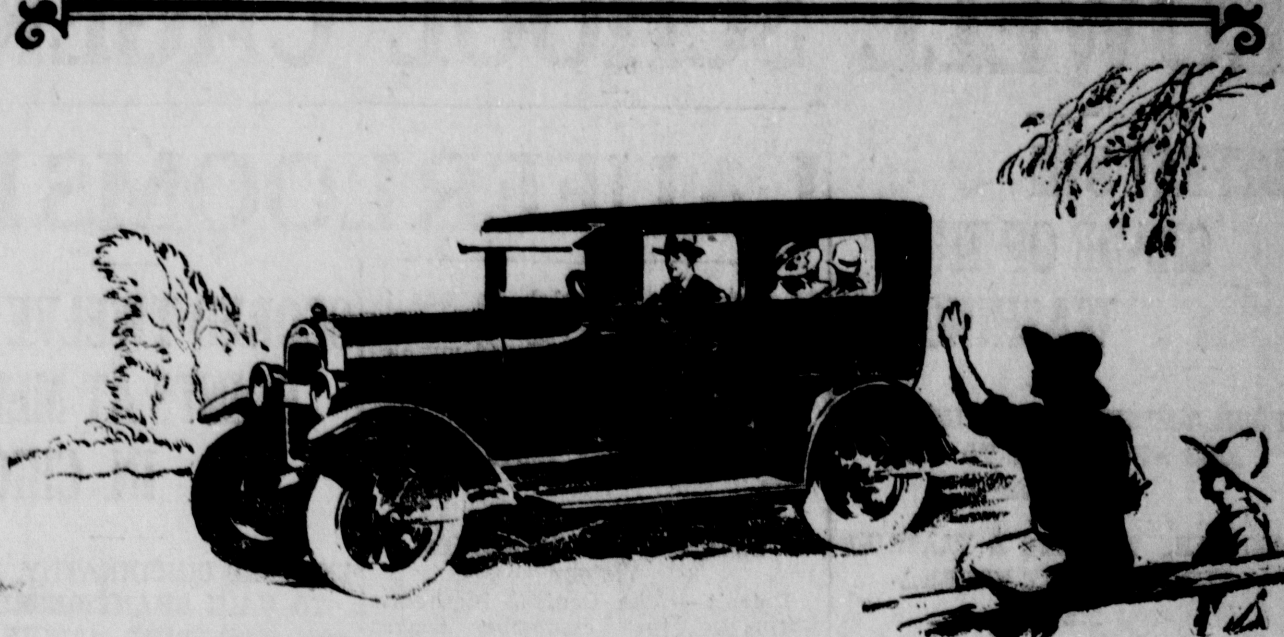

Geoffrey Morgan, the new head of the Dark Tobacco Growers' association, was talking in Hopkinsville about square pegs in round holes. "It reminds me," he said, "of the husband who complained gently to his wife:

"It's awfully kind of you, dear, to undertake to supply my smoking requirements, but these cigars—er—well, you know, I'm afraid ten for a quarter is a little too cheap."
"Yes, said his wife, "it's frightfully cheap, of course, but I thought there'd surely be one or two good ones in the bunch."

"$14.98, as advertised"

"How do you spell 'financially'?" asked a college student of his room-mate.

"F-i-n-a-n-c-i-a-l-l-y," said the room-mate, spelling out the word slowly. As an afterthought, he added: "And 'embarrassed' has two r's and two s's."

How often have you said to a salesman, "That's more than I care to pay"? If you had known the price in advance, you would have been spared this little embarrassment. That's one of the great services rendered by newspaper advertising.

By reading the advertisements before going to the stores, you know what you will have to pay for an article. You need not reveal your financial status to a salesman. You perhaps do not like to ask the price of goods anyhow. If the merchant has told you the price in his advertisement, you do not have to ask.

Any way you figure it out, it pays you to read the advertisements. Regularly! The one advertisement you skip may contain just the news you would have welcomed. Read all the advertisements you can. Keep informed.

The intelligent way to shop is to read the advertisements and then go to the stores that offer the best values. Make notes beforehand of the articles that interest you. That's the way to get the most for your money. That's the way to save time.

When you know the price in advance, you can ask to be shown the goods "as advertised"

LOWELL SCHOOL CAGERS ARE CHAMPIONS

DEFEAT 8TH GRADE OF THE WASHINGTON

FOUR 3-MINUTE OVERTIME PERIODS NECESSARY TO GAIN VICTORY

400 FANS WITNESS A FLASHING CLIMAX OF THE TOURNAMENT

The Lowell school basketball quint, grade school champions of Brainerd, brought the season to a flashing climax yesterday afternoon by triumphing over the eighth grade of the Washington school to the tune of 15 to 13, after four three-minute overtime periods were necessary to settle the dispute of supremacy.

The game was played at the Washington school before an enthusiastic following of 400 fans. It was truly a great finish of the basketball season in Brainerd, the game being declared the fastest grade school game in the city this season.

Excitement galore. At the end of the regular playing time, both teams stood equal with the score 9 all. The four overtime periods were the hardest playing periods witnessed this season in Brainerd. The scores at the end of each period were: first, 11-11; second, 13-13; third, 13-13; fourth, 15-13.

It was Carol Guin who slipped into the meshes of the Washington team's goal the winning basket. It was one final effort, brought about by the determination of the Lowell school to win the game if they dropped in doing so. Both teams were almost in a state of exhaustion from the trying strain of fast play as the final whistle sounded with the Lowell school emerging victorious.

Roy Paine of the Washington school team stands out as their lone star. He accounted for four of their field baskets which Foster, Goedderz, Kukko and Oftas took their share of the scoring.

The Lowell school team played a more uniform game than their opponents, although the Washington team gave them plenty of opposition. Carol Guin, Earl Olson, Vernon Marshall, Stanley Ashley and Eldred Rasch all took part in the scoring for the Lowell school.

CHAS. W. FOLDS CHICAGO, HEADS WALTON LEAGUE

ELECTION FOLLOWS ONE OF STORMIEST SESSIONS EVER HELD

NOMINATING COMMITTEE SUGGESTS AN ANNUITY FOR DILG

Chicago, April 10.—(UP)—Chas. W. Folds, Chicago, is the new president of the Isaak Walton League of America following one of the stormiest sessions ever experienced by the league.

Fold succeeds Will H. Dilg, who had held the office for four years after organizing the league in Chicago with 100 members. The league now boasts more than 200,000 members with approximately 3,000 chapters throughout the country.

After the nominating committee had made its report, it suggested that Dilg be given an annuity of $6,000. Dilg replied to this with "I am too proud, too valiant to accept this insult. I did not organize the league for a pension."

Other officers elected are George W. Woods, Waterloo, Ia., first vice president; Judge J. B. Robertson, Oklahoma City, second vice president; George H. Selover, Minneapolis, third vice president; Judge Henry Grass, Green Bay, Wis., fourth vice president; Thomas Ambrose, Chicago, fifth vice president; Thornhill Broome, Chicago, national treasurer, and Fred N. Peet, Chicago, secretary, re-elected.

BONE CRUSHING TOE HOLD USED

STANISLAUS ZBYSKO DEFEATS RUSSIAN GIANT, IVAN PODDUBUY

Winnipeg, Man., April 10.—(UP)—A bone crushing tortuous toe hold gave Stanislaus Zbyzsko, Polish heavyweight wrestler and former world's champion, a victory over Ivan Poddubuy, fittingly termed the Russian giant, after a fiercely fought match before 3,000 fans here Friday night. Poddubuy won the first fall with a flying mare and body hold in 48:45. Zbyzsko captured the second fall in 17 minutes with a toe hold and the third fall with another toe hold in two minutes.

MANDELL DEFEATS KID BROWN IN 10 ROUND BOUT

East Chicago, Ind., April 10.—(UP)—Sammy Mandell, the pride of Rockford, Ill., one of the leading contenders for the lightweight boxing title, decisively defeated Harry Kid Brown of Philadelphia in a 10 round bout here.

Mandell won the decision by pummeling Brown with about every thing he had, but there seemed to be a striking lack of the kind of a punch that it takes to floor a man.

Brown continually made it necessary for the referee to do the separating in clinches and several times after coming out of them, if Mandell had had any power behind the blows he landed there might have been a different story of the fight.

SCORED TWELVE POINTS AT MEET IN CHICAGO

ENABLED CINCINNATI Y. M. C. A. TO GAIN CHAMPIONSHIP BY 20 POINT MARGIN

LAUFER TAKES 1ST PLACE IN PENTATHLON, MEDLEY, BACK-STROKE, 100 YD. FREE STYLE

By BERT M. DEMBY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Chicago, April 10.—With final having been written into another set of the annual national A. A. U. championship, a new name stands out in the world of swimming today as a symbol of near perfection in the art of getting through the water.

The name is Walter Laufer and the bearer of the name goes back to Cincinnati, his home town, after scoring 12 points in the meet, to enable the Cincinnati Y. M. C. A. team to walk off with the championship by the margin of 20 points.

Laufer coming here as a good swimmer but unheralded as anything like the sensation that he really is, took first place in the pentathlon, medley, backstroke and 100 yard free style. He was third in the 50 yard dash and swam in both the 200 and 440 yard relays.

Laufer's real recognition in the meet came when he swam shoulder to shoulder for almost 100 yards with the great Johnny Weissmuller and then pulled away from the I. A. C. star to win by a foot.

Cincinnati by scoring a total of 51 points, was first in the meet. The Chicago Athletic association was second with 31, and the others were far down in the list. More records fell last night. Miss Agnes Geraghty, New York Women's Swimming association, competed against time and swam the 220 yards breast stroke in 3:22.8 to better her old mark of 3:24. Walter Spence swam the 200 yard breast stroke in the new world record time of 2:29.6 to clip 2.4 seconds off the old record held by Robert Skelton.

Eric Rademacher, the sensational German swimmer, competing against time, set American records in the 100 yard and 500 yard breast stroke. No previous records of these events were listed. Rademacher's time for the 100 is 5:36.8 and the 500 is 6:59.8.

Miss Ethel Lackie failed in an attempt to break her own world's record for the 100 yard swim.

The water polo team of the Chicago Athletic association won the championship of the United States by defeating the Illinois Athletic club in the finals 7-6. The game required two extra sessions.

Arne Borg, I. A. C., again demonstrated his superiority in the 500 yard free style by taking first over Harry Clancy of Cincinnati in the time of 6:32.5.

Second individual honors in the meet went to Al White, Olympic club, San Francisco, Arne Borg and Harry Clancy, each garnering 10 points.

LAST MINUTE CHANGE IN S. A. BOXING INVASION

New York, April 10.—(UP)—Inability of some members of the American amateur boxing team to make the trip to Buenos Aires resulted in some last minute changes in the personnel when the team sailed today.

The final selections made by the Amateur Athletic Union were: 112 pounds, Lawrence Lyons of Pittsburgh; 118 pounds, Joe Katish of Pittsburgh; 126 pounds, Jack McCarron of Boston; 135 pounds, Francis Collins of Boston; 145 pounds, Charles Hallock, of Pittsburgh; 160 pounds, Arthur Flynn, of New York; 175 pounds, Joe Monti of Brockton, Mass.; heavyweight, Stanley Simmons of Pittsburgh.

CHARLEY HOFF BREAKS POLE VAULT AGAIN

Chicago, April 10.—(UP)—The world's pole vault record is three-fourths of an inch higher today as a result of another vault by Charley Hoff of Norway.

Hoff cleared the bar at 13 feet 8 1/4 inches at the annual track and field meet of the American Institute of Banking.

Nearly 5,000 persons waited until about midnight to see the Norwegian make his record vault.

JOHN MCGRAW'S PENNANT CHANCES

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)
New York, April 10.—It does not take a skilled observer to look at the New York Giants without becoming convinced that John McGraw has developed another team that is bound to be very much in the National league pennant race.

The team is stronger in two departments—pitching and the outfield—than it was last year and the 1925 team was only prevented from winning the championship by a continuous string of serious injuries that had the club badly crippled all season.

McGraw is not one to claim pennants but he cannot disguise the feeling that his team ought to win the pennant and his confidence has created a winning atmosphere among the players that is most convincing.

With the possible exception of a rather antique catching staff, the Giants have no weakness around the infield, and in the outfield, and it is the only team in the National league that hardly could be improved in any defensive position. The Pirates are none too strong at first and second base. The Reds are gambling with a new shortstop and a young outfielder and the Cards are uncertain on the left side of the infield.

George Kelly is the best first baseman in the National league and he may have even a better season as he has been hitting the ball terrifically and will not have to be shifted around from place to place this season.

Frank Frisch is a great second baseman. Travis Jackson is a competent shortstop and Heinie Groh and Freddy Lindstrom remove any worries about third base. The outfield, Irish Meusel, Al Tyson, Pep Young, Billy Southworth and a rookie or two that may be retained is a fine offensive and defensive combination.

As was mentioned above, the catching is not particularly weak but is old and slow. Frank Snyder and Grover Hartley will have to do the bulk of the work unless one of the rookies comes through or unless McGraw is able to buy or trade for an experienced man.

String pitching ought to be one of the big assets of the club and it is unusual for McGraw to find himself in the position where he does not feel the need of offering his kingdom for one winning pitcher.

He realized last year that the future of his team depended upon an improvement in the pitching staff and he secured the release of Jimmy Ring from the Phillies. Ring is no youngster but he has the experience and the ability to provide just what McGraw wanted.

In Kent Greenfield and Fred Fitzsimmons the club has two of the most promising youngsters brought up in years and in Tim McNamara a prospect who promises to come through for the first time.

Hugh McQuillan, Jack Scott and Art Nehf form the veteran side of the staff better this season. McQuillan had a lot of domestic trouble last season and Scott went bad after a good spring start. They both have survived experiences that should prove a valuable lesson to them. Nehf is an uncertain quantity but he will be a valuable pitcher to have around.

After all, and perhaps most important of all, there is the personality of John McGraw and the stern voice of Roger Bresnahan, who is back with the club again as coach and assistant manager. Bresnahan will be valuable not only on the coaching line but he ought to do great service in bringing along the young pitchers. He has been working with Jack Wisner, another young pitcher, and he thinks he will develop him into a winner.

McGraw can make any team hustle and when he has a good team the hustle is all the more pronounced. If the players had any inflated ideas of their class, they should have learned their lesson last season and they should be all the better for it this season.

The players do not underestimate the class of the Pirates even if they do feel that Pittsburgh was lucky to win the championship last year, and they have been impressed with the feeling that if they are to get back into the world's series this year they will have to jump the Pirates early and keep ahead of them.

Considering the team from every angle, the Giants look like a one-two cinch.

MINORITY REPORT OBJECTS TO ALL AMERICAN ROUTE

Washington, April 10.—(UP)—The proposed Illinois river canal project and the survey of a route for an all American canal from the great lakes across New York to the ocean were strenuously opposed in a minority report filed today by the house committee on rivers and harbors.

The Illinois project, the report stated, "would lower the level of the great lakes 27 inches and would practically destroy the utility of every channel this government has made in improving the great lakes."

THEODORE ROOSEVELT TO SPEAK AT CANBY

Canby, Minn., April 10.—(UP)—Theodore Roosevelt, recently returned from an Asiatic hunting expedition, has been invited to speak at the Isaak Walton league celebration here July 5. "It seems very likely Roosevelt will come," officers in charge of the celebration announced.

Elaborate plans are being made for the occasion. Medicine county fair grounds have been obtained as the scene of the celebration and preparations are underway for one of the greatest affairs of the kind ever staged in Minnesota.

Indictments Charging Roads as Discriminating in Rates are Nollod

Minneapolis, April 10.—(UP)—Indictments charging the Minneapolis & St. Louis and the St. Paul roads with discriminatory rates were nollod yesterday at the request of the county attorney. Trial of similar indictments against other roads resulted in dismissal of the cases by the court and it was useless to prosecute the rest, he explained.

Washington, April 10.—(UP)—Southern democrats should repudiate the action of the senate privileges and elections committee recommending ousting of Senator Brookhart, republican, Iowa, because the committee violated the principles of state's rights, Senator Cole Blease, democrat, South Carolina, told the senate today.

The committee has said that it would not be bound by the laws of Iowa and made its own law, Blease said.

3,000 MEN STRIVE TO CHECK OIL TANK FIRE IN CALIFORNIA

Los Angeles, April 10.—(UP)—Energies of workmen in the two great California oil tank farm fires centered today at the Brea plant, where 3,000 men strove to confine the blaze to three 750,000 barrel reservoirs, which have been burning since Thursday morning. The spectacular disaster at the San Luis Obispo tank farm was lessening in intensity. The flames which started Tuesday when lightning struck two of the huge underground reservoirs are slowly burning out.

AGEDMAN FOUND DEAD IN ROOM

Minneapolis, April 10.—(UP)—P. N. Kron, 75, was found dead in his room here today. A burning gas jet in the room led to the conclusion the flame had exhausted more oxygen than the aged man could stand. Kron is reported to have a son and a daughter in Albert Lea.

SALARY CASE TO DISTRICT COURT

Ruling Made by Judge W. S. McClenahan at Morning Hearing
IN POLICE CHIEF SUIT

Demurrer to Answer Overruled And Case Placed on May Term Calendar

The case of Roy N. Zierke, against E. T. Fleener, et al, for salary as chief of police of Brainerd will be settled at the May term of the district court, this being the ruling of Judge W. S. McClenahan in the district court this morning. The case will be either jury or non jury as desired by the parties concerned. In the district court this morning before Judge McClenahan, the motion of Wayne B. Wheeling, attorney for Roy N. Zierke, demurring to the answer interposed in the action by a majority of the council, was denied. Attorney Wheeling contended that the answer of the defendants did not state facts sufficient to constitute a defense to the action brought by Roy N. Zierke for salary as chief of police. D. H. Fullerton, city attorney, appeared in opposition to the motion for the defendants.

The court by overruling the demurrer, held that the answer did constitute facts sufficient to form a defense. Because there was a dispute as to facts, the court ordered the case to be placed on the calendar for the May term of the district court to be then disposed of as the situation may demand.

The burden of proof now is on the petitioner, Roy N. Zierke, to disprove the allegations of the answer, that is, prove the allegations of the petition, in order to recover in this case.

Judge McClenahan in announcing his decision at this point in the case stated that for the justice of all it would be advisable to have the case threshed out at the district court. While it might be impossible for Judge McClenahan to be presiding judge of the case, his duties taking him elsewhere, Judge C. W. Stanton will in that case be the presiding judge.

The court room this morning was crowded to capacity with interested listeners. Roy N. Zierke, who still fulfills the office of chief of police wearing his badge of office sat among the crowd in the front seat.

Fashions in Bracelets and Slave Necklaces

The slave chain necklaces and bracelets now being shown have several new features. The links are long and heavy and joined together by thick round rings. These joining rings may or may not be ornamented by small, jeweled conventional motifs. They are made to fit snugly about the base of the neck and at the wrists. Naturally, it is quite easy to snap the necklace on, but when it comes to wrists a difficult problem arises. Only the services of a maid can settle it, for it is impossible to put them on single-handed.

Indestructible seed pearls in festoons and bangles are used in conjunction with fine chains of white gold and silver. These pearls form the decorative scheme centered on the front part of the chain. The festoons and pendant drops, which are all very small and dainty, achieve a flattering effect for the woman who has deep hollows or a thin neck.

When the Paper Doesn't Come
My father says the paper he reads ain't put up right.

He finds a lot of fault, he does, perusin' it all night.
He says there ain't a single thing in it worth while to read.
And that it doesn't print the kind of stuff the people need.

He tosses it aside and says its strictly on the bum—
But you ought to hear him holler when the paper doesn't come.

He reads about the wedding and he snorts like all get out.
He reads the social doolin's with a most derisive shout.

He says they make papers for the women folks alone.
He'll read about the parties, and he'll fume and fret and groan:

He says of information it doesn't have a crumb—
But you ought to hear him holler when the paper doesn't come.

He's always first to grab it and he reads it plumb clean through.

He doesn't miss an item of a want ad—that is true.

He says, "They don't know what we want—the durn newspaper guys."

I'm going to take a day sometime an' go an' put 'em wise;

Sometimes it seems as though they must be deaf and blind and dumb—

But you ought to hear him holler when the paper doesn't come.

Money in Snake Catching

The snake business is quite a good one, for there is an endless demand for snakes for the various zoological gardens. A good python fetches $100 to $250, and the ugly and dangerous rattler $10 to $25. There is also a market for small, nonpoisonous snakes, which are used as food for the rarer varieties in captivity, and for which about a dollar a pound is paid.

Northeast Brainerd Association Expresses Gratitude For Bequest to City

AIDED PARK AND HOSPITAL

President Mrs. J. H. Herbert Frames Thanks in Original Verses

The Northeast Brainerd Improvement league at a meeting well attended last night at the Lowell school, which consisted of a concert and business meeting, offered their tribute, sincere respect and gratitude to the memory of the late Leon E. Lum for what he bequeathed and accomplished for the city of Brainerd.

Mrs. J. H. Herbert, president of the league by the following words: "While many of us have never seen Mr. Lum we have every reason to remember him kindly. For some years, we have enjoyed the park, which bears his name, and which was the gift of his generosity, and now he has bequeathed $2,000 for improvement purposes. Mr. Kaatz could tell you, better than I, how long it would be before we secured that much money through the regular channels of taxation, and this gift is much appreciated. We are glad that he remembered the hospital also, and lightened the burden for them."

Mrs. Herbert also quoted the following verse of her own composition dedicated to the late Mr. Lum:

"In fancy, we weave a garland,
That from no florist could be bought,
Of the rosemary's of our remembrance

And the sweet forget-me-nots,
With affection, we will place it,
Where the moonbeams silvery white,

Weave a veil of shimmering glory,
O'er our friend's resting place to-night."

The concert given previous to the meeting was high class, with each of the numbers pleasing and entertaining.

The program was as follows:
Piano and mandolin selection—H. A. Kaatz, Mrs. F. G. Djerling.

Playlet, "The Flapper Cook"—Elfreda and Hattie Zawadzki.

Recitation, "Springtime"—Roger Callahan. Composed by Mrs. Herbert.

Minstrel, comedy act.

Talk, "The Night Schools"—Miss M. Vanasek.

Solo—Mrs. A. E. Hagel, accompaniment Miss Helen Lammon.

Recitation, "Giving"—Hattie Zawadzki.

Talk, "Clean Sports"—Walter F. Wieland.

Play, "A Sultor Bold"—Elfreda Zawadzki, Mildred Herrington.

The following committees were named at the business meeting, the first named in each of the committees being the chairman of the same: Education and recreation, R. Hise, L. E. Cameron, Albert O. Anderson; ward improvement, H. A. Kaatz, A. D. Peterson, C. W. Koering; finance and membership, Mrs. F. M. Kelley, Mrs. Peter Dryburgh, Otto Lundberg; streets and boulevards, Oscar Swanson, A. D. Peterson, and Arthur Thon; publicity and social welfare, Albert O. Anderson, R. W. Crust, and Mrs. Elmer Forsberg.

The League as a body heartily endorsed the resolution designating that Federal road No. 210 follow a course from Lum Park on H street, formerly Ash avenue, to Fourth avenue, along Fourth avenue to A street, which was known as Kindred street, along A street and Kingwood to either Broadway or N. Sixth street, thence through the city crossing the Mississippi river on Laurel street. This resolution will be sent to highway department and the county commissioners as an expression from the league as to where the road should be situated. Road No. 210 when completed will be a part of the transcontinental road from Duluth to the Pacific coast, crossing Minnesota to Fargo, and then crossing North Dakota, Montana, Idaho, and Washington.

It is expected that work on the Brainerd part of the road will commence next fall or the early part of next spring.

County Commissioner Frank Lowey who was called on to explain progress, stated that at the present indications, this matter would likely be the first project taken up by the state, after completing work now on hand.

Resolutions were also adopted urging members of the school board to respect the wishes of the people as expressed at the election held Nov. 1924 in regard to the building of the new proposed high school on block 82 which offers central location and an adjoining athletic field. Members of the school board of the third ward, Robert Crust, and S. A. Stanley, when called upon to speak, expressed their views in favor of Block 82. Hugo Kaatz, A. O. Anderson, Dan Chord, also spoke highly of Block 82 as the proposed site. The residents of other wards who spoke in favor of Block 82 were Mrs. A. C. Weber, George Tracy, Mrs. C. D. McKay, William Coyne spoke briefly in opposition to the athletic field.

Those who expressed their opinion on the proposed new high school felt that Brainerd was entitled to a new high school, modern in every way, to meet the demand of the increase in pupils for several years.

The sum of $14 was realized at the door towards a fund for the purchase of uniforms for the Northeast Brainerd Boosters baseball team.

A luncheon was served at the close of the meeting, consisting of doughnuts made by Otto Lundberg and others, sandwiches and coffee. The baseball boys served.

FIRE TRUCK ON RAMPAGE

STEERING APPARATUS CRIPPLED. IT STRIKES STORE AND TWO CARS

Eau Claire, Wis., April 10.—(UP)—A fire truck, its steering apparatus crippled, plunged into the front of a store here late yesterday, after ramming two automobiles in its path.

Scores of persons on the street and in the automobiles had narrow escapes from injury or death.

The truck was speeding to a fire when the driver lost control. Both hind wheels were ripped off the first car struck. Then the fire truck careened into a coupe parked at the curb and pushed through the display window of a store before it could be halted.

The driver of the truck and firemen remained at their places. The owner of the store fled from his doorway. The truck was not seriously damaged.

SLOW WEEK END ON WALL ST.

New York, April 10.—(UP)—Wall street has not gone through such a slow week end as today since last summer. Trading dragged along in an uninteresting session with the monotony occasionally broken by bursts of strength in rails or an outbreak of selling in industrials.

Carrier shares which reached buying attention included Chesapeake & Ohio and Erie first preferred, while industrial stocks subjected to pressure were Jordan Motor and Columbia Gas. Selling in the industrial department broadened and trading ended with this section showing extreme heaviness.

The market closed lower.

BOY OF 18 ROBS MOTHER OF $4,000 IN DIAMONDS TO MARRY WOMAN OF 25

This photograph was taken when Robert Stuart, 18 years old, appeared in court in New York City with his bride, Edna Marsh Stuart, 25 years old. He was held in $2,500 bail on a charge of stealing three diamond rings valued at $4,000 from his mother. It is alleged that the boy took the rings and pawned them for $700 so that he could marry the young woman.

STEAMER EAGLE RESCUES MEN FROM PERILOUS ICE FLOE

EXPLOSION ON VESSEL SEAL SHATTERED AN ENTIRE SIDE OF SHIP

St. Johns, N. F., April 10.—(UP)—The crew of the steamer Seal which sank yesterday after an explosion, was brought into port here today aboard the steamer Eagle.

The explosion had shattered an entire side of the Seal and was followed by fire. The crew escaped to an ice floe and sent up flares throughout the night.

Rescue work was handicapped because of fog and the air cleared to day and the eagle was enabled to remove the 60 men from the drifting ice.

ABANDON SEARCH FOR 23 VICTIMS

2 TUGS STAND BY BLAZING OIL TANKER SILVANUS AT NEW ORLEANS

New Orleans, La., April 10.—(UP)—While marine authorities sought vainly to salvage part of the Dutch Tanker Silvanus which collided with Standard Oil Tanker Thos. H. Wheeler Thursday night, search for the bodies of 23 victims of the crash was virtually abandoned today.

Two tugs are standing by the blazing Silvanus, pouring streams of water on the flames when the intense heat permits them to approach near enough to the doomed craft.

If the flames can be extinguished within a few hours, river men say, part of the million dollar cargo of oil aboard can be saved.

Inconsiderate Barber

A shudder ran down the spinal columns of many persons living in one of the Cleveland suburbs when they noticed a funeral wreath hung up behind the "You're Next" sign in the window of the local barber shop.

Not Hard to Believe

A wandering Jewish musician met three wolves in a forest in Latvia. In his fright he began playing his hand-organ. At the first selection the wolves, he says, began to howl; at the third they ran away. Being familiar with hand-organs we here testify to our belief in the literal truth of the musician's story.

NEIL HAMILTON AND SHIRLEY MASON IN A SCENE FROM ZANE GREY'S "DESERT GOLD" A PARAMOUNT PICTURE PRODUCED BY GEORGE B. SEITZ

Has Great Cast of Stars

A Zane Grey story pictured by Paramount with absolute fidelity and authenticity, with one of the most notable stellar and supporting casts in screen history and acclaimed by reviewers as one of the most entertaining and thrilling Grey stories to date, comes to the Lyceum theatre for an engagement of two days starting Sunday.

chiefly with the lawless days at the close of the last century, along the southwestern border. Into this seething whirlpool comes the son of a rich man and there he encounters a girl. With her he escapes from bandits into the Painted Desert and amid wild rides, fights and adventure, finds love and gold.

The picture was directed by George B. Seitz of "The Vanishing American" fame.

Lloyd Hughes and Colleen Moore in "Irene"

Beautiful Girls in Merry Movie, "Irene"

What is so rare as a beautiful fashion show on the screen? Only the day in June, of course.

When the show comes, however, as it did last night in the premiere at the New Park of Colleen Moore's "Irene," it is worthy of all praise. This reviewer is delighted to give it.

Gowns on beautiful women are like petals on a rose. Colleen Moore and a troupe of rapturously beautiful Hollywood coryphees parade in dress creations, that give them the semblance of gorgeous flowers.

Miss Moore herself is a thing of beauty and a joy forever.

"Irene," like Miss Moore's former triumph, "Sally," is based on a musical comedy hit. Lloyd Hughes, George K. Arthur and Charles Murray are featured.

"Irene" remains at the Park to night and Sunday.

8 NEW COMPLAINTS IN CLEVELAND LIQUOR RING

Practice Continuity

The more the art of continuity is practiced, the easier it becomes. We readily form habits. When a man makes up his mind that he will not give up, he gets into his stride and proceeds just because that becomes part of his life. To be aimless is to flounder; to "have nothing to do in particular" is to get nothing done. To continue in the thing that uplifts and fortifies is to gain the victory. So, get your channel and follow your chart.—Exchange.

Thrilling Oil Flood in "Flaming Waters" at Lyceum

An Epic of Oil, with a stupendous fire in the fields, its monumental climax—a river of death-dealing flame, licking at the house foundations—a crumpled home, crashing into a sea of burning oil—a white faced girl on the roof—his trembling mother—and a great, lion hearted boy who swims beneath the seething surface of this inferno to rescue his loved ones!

This is only one of many big scenes in "Flaming Waters," a big thrill special showing at the Lyceum tonight only.

GIRARD HAS ROYAL REVENUE FROM COAL

Easily Richest Educational Institution on Earth.

Girard college royalties on coal last year amounted to $3,800,000, says "Girard" in the Philadelphia Inquirer.

But last year the consumers paid about $1,000,000,000 for their anthracite delivered into their coal bins. Wiping out that royalty would be like dipping a drop from a bucket of water.

Years ago the Girard estate stopped spending its coal royalties. The estate managers, which is the Board of City Trusts, wisely decided that coal in the ground is capital.

When that capital is removed from the earth its equivalent in dollars must be invested to take its place. Otherwise the estate would some day have spent its great resource of revenue.

Coal royalties for years past have been invested and only the interest on that investment is spent.

Last year the value of the Girard estate increased almost $11,500,000, which inspires Walter C. Gold, a graduate of Girard college, to give other interesting figures.

Girard college is now, as it has been from the beginning, the richest educational institution on earth.

At the start of the present year the four biggest college endowments in the world stood in this order:

Girard—$72,000,000.
Harvard—$64,000,000.
Columbia—$56,000,000.
Yale—$40,000,000.

Stephen Girard died ninety-four years ago, and his fortune of about $8,000,000 was the largest then in America. More than $7,000,000 of that was set aside for the creation and maintenance of Girard college, which the old banker directed to be built on lines carefully set down by himself.

No other college in the world was then worth anything near $7,000,000.

The figures show that it still leads, although enormous gains made by Harvard and Columbia may soon remove Girard from first place.

This college for fatherless boys, of whom there are now more than fifteen hundred students, has had a unique record.

A Girard student is not only educated free of all cost, but his food and clothing are provided free from the day he enters until he graduates.

Thus Girard college has sent into the world many thousand well trained youths and at the same time multiplied its capital from about $7,000,000 to more than ten times that sum.

Uncanny Experiment

The appointment of Joseph Barcroft as professor of physiology at Cambridge university, England, recalls the fact that Professor Barcroft once performed an experiment which attracted world-wide attention. He was studying lung diseases. For one whole week he remained in a glass chamber from which all the air was pumped except the smallest amount required to sustain life. Students watched in relays day and night to see that the small motor drawing out the vitiated air did not stop, for if it had stopped even for a few minutes it would have meant certain death to Professor Barcroft. When the scientist emerged from the glass chamber his body had turned completely blue.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Iron-Will'd Man

"The saving grace of life is that we aren't compelled to do a number of things we ought to do," a man with an expanding waistline philosophizes. "Now I ought to take exercises, but I don't. Instead, I turn on the radio in the morning and jump back in bed while the announcer is directing the morning callisthenics. I lie there and think of how early the poor announcer gets to work, and of how uncomfortable the poor fellows are who are exercising, and of how pleasant it is to be strong-willed enough to resist the temptation to exercise, and I enjoy it. That little bit of callisthenics in the morning sweetens my whole day for me."—Detroit News

England's Egg Imports

England, once a fine farming country with good farmers, doesn't even raise the eggs it eats for breakfast, says Capper's Weekly. It is under a "foreign yolk" so to speak. Last year it imported $93,179,680 worth of eggs, mainly from Denmark and Ireland, but also from the United States, Poland, France, Italy, Lithuania, Czechoslovakia, Egypt, China, Canada and South America. Johnny Bull made a serious mistake a hundred years ago when he turned his back on his farm industry to do all his boosting for the manufacturers.

Clinic Makes Boys Good

In Philadelphia there is a clinic that has as its chief purpose the making of boys good. The clinic starts out with finding the pathologic or other causes for a boy being wayward or "bad" and proceeds to remove the cause, first by giving him a healthy mental attitude and then treating him physically if necessary. The children are not removed from their homes unless absolutely necessary.
